Central European Joint Infoday
on Centralised Actions of the Erasmus+ Programme
18-19 October 2018
Bratislava, Slovakia

COMPENDIUM

Introduction

This publication is a collection of contact details and brief descriptions of project ideas presented by participants of the Central European Joint Infoday on Centralised Actions, of the Erasmus+ Programme that takes place on 18 - 19 October 2018 in Bratislava, Slovakia.

What is the Central European Joint Infoday?

The Central European Joint Infoday is a joint event organised by the Slovak, Austrian, Czech, and Hungarian Erasmus+ National Agencies. The main focus of the infoday is centralised actions of the Erasmus+ programme where the cooperation between higher education institutions from Programme countries and Partner countries is strongly supported, i.e. Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degrees, Capacity Building in Higher Education, Jean Monnet. Knowledge Alliances – European Universities are also included as a centralised action in the higher education sector.

What are the aims of the event?

The main aim of the Central European Joint Infoday is to increase the visibility of the Erasmus+ programme and its international dimension as supported by the centralised actions. The event has been promoted to higher education institutions in the four organising countries of Slovakia, Austria, Czech Republic, and Hungary. Partner countries of Algeria, Bosnia and Herzegovina, and Kyrgyzstan have accepted the invitation to actively participate, too. The international setting of the infoday enhances its networking potential. That's why participants do not only learn how to submit a successful proposal under the 2019 call for proposals, but they also have the opportunity to meet other project coordinators and find new project partners.

Who are the participants?

Participants of the seminar are representatives of higher education institutions interested in centralised actions, along with successful project coordinators who lead workshop presentations to share good practice. A representative of the European Commission, DG for Education and Culture opens the infoday by providing an overview of the opportunities the Erasmus+ programme offers to the higher education sector. Representatives of the organizing National Agencies deliver presentations on each centralized action. Representatives of National Erasmus+ Offices in the Partner countries introduce their national and regional priorities and their higher education systems.

Please, feel free to use this compendium as a supporting tool for making the most of the networking opportunities during and after the seminar.

We are interested in discussing possible participation of TU Wien in projects in diverse fields of higher education and university management (HE&UM), for which TU Wien could provide the needed expertise. TU Wien was established in 1815 and is the oldest and biggest technical university in Austria. At present, it has approximately 30000 students studying at eight faculties: Architecture and Planning, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering and IT, Informatics, Mechanical and Industrial Engineering, Mathematics and Geoinformation, Physics, and Technical Chemistry. The International Office of TU Wien (IO) actively supports development of international cooperation in the area of HE&UM between TU Wien and other higher education institutions. The IO has a long-term experience with EU projects and has prepared and coordinated many projects in different fields of HE&UM, e.g. establishment and development of international offices, environmental protection, applied computing, continuing education, etc. We will be pleased to discuss any project ideas in which TU Wien could play an active role either as a partner or a coordinator.

Putting together a team of colleagues from European and other universities in the hope of coordinating syllabus material in Asian studies, Eurasian geopolitics and Comparative History in Eastern European and Asia history, organizing conferences and publications. This coordination will allow us to achieve commonalities in how Asia is taught in the European universities and researched. It will allow the participants to exchange ideas onto how the topic is taught and disseminated. This cooperation could be further extended into "mentor-ship" of MA and PhD students because at the moment there are very few universities who have experts in all topic and subject matters. This would lay the foundation for a network of "supervisors" for MA and PhD students. The outcome could be the formation of a common platform of research and study in Asian History and Eurasian Geopolitics.

The project PuppeTry is a new programme of study created by the University of Theatre and Film (SZFE) in Budapest, Hungary; the Aleksander Zelwerowicz National Academy of Dramatic Art in Warsaw and the Puppet Theatre Arts department in Bialystok, Poland; the Theatre Faculty of the Academy of Performing Arts in Bratislava, Slovakia and the Academy of Performing Arts in Prague. The intention behind the establishment of this EMJMD programme is to strengthen the strategic role of Central European puppetry training, the exchange of methods and educational approaches in the context of puppet theatre and material performance in the 21st century. The new study programme PuppeTry will offer a unique chance for the students to experience different artistic methods and aesthetic approaches under the leadership of local and guest teachers, attaining knowledge, skills, ideas and practice in both traditional techniques and contemporary object and material theatre of the 21st century. This will be provided through a rotating system which will operate semester by semester in each of the four academies. A selected topic for each semester will be designated within the syllabus of the programme, and elaborated by the four academies in relation to the aesthetic specialisations of each academy. The students will have the opportunity to meet internationally acclaimed Masters of puppet theatre.
